1. Preamble

1.1 About the Institute

The National Institute of Technology- Arunachal Pradesh was established by the Ministry of Human Resource Development, Government of India in 2010. It is now located at a temporary location (temporary campus) at Yupia, District - Papumpare, Arunachal Pradesh. It ran three 4-years B.Tech programmes in Computer Science and Engineering, Electronics and Communication Engineering and Electrical and Electronics Engineering. Ph. D programme in Computer Science and Engineering was planned to start in 2012-13.

Prior to 01.11.2011, the Institute was mentored by NIT-Durgapur as per directions of the Ministry of Human Resource Development, Govt. of India

1.2. From the Desk of the Director

“Our duty is to encourage everyone in their struggles to live up to their own higher ideals and strive at the same time to make the ideal as near as possible to the truth.” ~ Swami Vivekananda.

The real and crucial difference between the developed and the developing is nothing but the application of science and technology. India is now a rapidly transforming country, the success of which depends on how the country generates improved human resources in the field of science and technology. In the process, the establishment of this National Institute of Technology in Arunachal Pradesh is indeed a challenging prospect with high hopes and big aspirations. A progressive and positive momentum is imparted by the targeted Vision and Mission of the National Institute of Technology and those are

VISION (As approved by the Academic Council/Senate):

Our vision is to impart quality technical education with strong underpinning of sound knowledge in the domain. Our approach is interactive, innovative and quintessentially holistic. Our goal is to produce imaginative entrepreneurs, technology leaders of the new millennium and researchers with a profound sense of humanistic and ethical values.

MISSION (As adopted by the Academic Council/Senate):

Our mission is that of producing such Technical Engineers who will not run after jobs but for whom jobs will run after them, and such that they will create employment and develop new technologies for faster, sustainable and inclusive growth.

To realize the goals of its Vision and Mission, the NIT- Arunachal Pradesh has framed a strategic and progressive Academic plan for the next 10 years which may be seen at the Institute's website. This speaks of the determination and sound temperament of the members of faculty and staff of the Institute. It is planned to make this NIT a global leader so as to earn global accolades.

Culturally and environmentally, this place is so rich that it would facilitate the NIT to become a fusion of scholastic students, academically bright and credible members of the faculty, innovative researchers and visionary leaders in India's "Land of the Rising Sun."

By no stretch of imagination, it may be said therefore that NIT-Arunachal Pradesh is second to no other institute in its fields of development and momentum built by this time.

Prof. (Dr.) C.T. Bhunia
Director

"Everything that is done in the world is done by hope." ~ Martin Luther
